

ISS (In-School Suspension)
Aubrey Middle School

In-school suspension is an on-campus setting that is a behavioral modification program. Its purpose is to help students find alternative solutions for their behavior.

ISS Information and Procedures:

Reporting: All students assigned to ISS must report to the Middle School (ISS) no earlier than 7:30 am and be here no later than 8:00 am. Students will be released at 3:30 p.m. If riding the bus, the ISS teacher will walk you to the bus area. If a parent is picking you up, you will be walked to the back of the building to the parent loop.

Bathroom Breaks: There are only two bathroom breaks a day, one in the morning and one in the afternoon. Restroom located in ISS room.

Lunches: A sack lunch will be provided for ISS students or students can bring their own lunch from home

Early Release: Parents must sign students in and out at the front office: no exceptions. They must be cleared by the front office first. The office attendant will notify the ISS teacher that the parent has signed their student out.

Requirements: All students reporting to ISS must come prepared with assignments and supplies and be prepared to work all day long. (No magazines are allowed). Any student reporting to ISS unprepared will be assigned to an additional day of ISS.

Extra-Curricular Activities: Students will not be allowed to participate in extracurricular activities during the school day or evening during the time assigned to ISS. Students may attend practices before and/or after school

RULES:

- No electronic devices: cell phones, IPODS, MP3 players, or any other electronic devices allowed; you will not need them while in ISS. If you bring any of these items, the teacher will take it and you will get it back at the end of the ISS assignment.

- No talking: There will be no talking, fraternizing, note passing, or any other contact between students while in ISS. If you need the ISS teacher, you will raise your hand and wait to be recognized before talking.
- No sleeping: Resting your head in your hands or on the desk or table is not allowed. After three warnings to wake up or lift your head have been given, another day will be added to your stay.
- Seating: You will be assigned a seat away from other students upon your admission to ISS. This will be your seat until otherwise notified. You may be required to move at anytime deemed necessary by the ISS teacher or administration.
- No getting out of your seat: You will remain in your seat at all times unless given specific permission by the ISS teacher or administration.
- Dress Code: The approved Aubrey ISD dress code can be found in the student handbook. It requires collared shirts, jeans or slacks, appropriate shoes, shirts tucked in and pants belted. Hair must be at appropriate length for boys and of appropriate color for both girls and boys. Facial hair and distracting or inappropriate jewelry is strictly prohibited. If at any time the dress code is broken, another day will be added to your ISS assignment.
- No eating, drinking, or chewing gum: No snacks, drinks, or gum chewing is allowed in the ISS. You may not bring breakfast or drinks with you in the morning.

The consequences of failure to follow these simple instructions will add more days to your stay in ISS or may result in further consequences.
